

The Nature of Behaviour

An Introduction to TetraMap®

TetraMap® is a simple but powerful tool which helps individuals, teams and organisations to improve performance by improving communication, increasing collaboration, building strong relationships and making effective use of individual working styles and strengths.

In this FREE half-day workshop you'll experience the power and simplicity of TetraMap by completing your own personal profile, and learn how it enables people to understand themselves and others, to look at situations and challenges from different perspectives, and to make the most of the diversity with a team or organisation.

You'll also discover its wide-ranging benefits and uses and find out how you can introduce TetraMap in your own organisation, or train to become a certified TetraMap facilitator.

This workshop is suitable for:

- People who are looking for a simple but effective tool to improve communication, collaboration and performance in their organisation.
- Trainers, facilitators and coaches who are interested in adding TetraMap to their toolkit by becoming Certified TetraMap Facilitators

Trainer

Nicki is Director of Saltbox Training & Events. With over 25 years' experience in leadership, management and training, Nicki designs and runs training for senior managers and staff at a range of organisations in the corporate, charity and public sectors as well as running open courses at the Salthouse.

Nicki is a fellow of the RSA, a director of the Association of Sustainability Practitioners, and is an active member of the West of England branch of the CIPD (Chartered Institute of Personnel and Development). Nicki has ILM and CIPD qualifications, and is an accredited Master TetraMap® facilitator and member of the TetraMap Global Leadership Group.

Nicki believes that we all perform best when our mind is free, our body relaxed, and our creative potential unlocked, and she uses imaginative, enjoyable methods to make training lively, fun and colourful, so that people participate more, learn better and are inspired to put their learning into practice.

Nicki loves being outdoors and considers a connection to the natural world as essential for wellbeing, creativity, and inspiration.

"TetraMap brings the ancient wisdom of the elements into a powerful framework for personal and organisational development. It is a way to harness the power of our natural abilities, build on strengths and enable everyone in the team to reach their potential. Using the four elements as a way to understand myself and the organisation has deepened my understanding of good leadership and given me a powerful tool for the future." Angie Burke, Trust Manager, The Resurgence Trust

"TetraMap gave the whole staff team a much better understanding of each other and why we often think and work differently. It also gave us a real insight into our own working practices and where our strengths and weaknesses lie. A fantastic tool for any organisation, however large or small." Liza Narracott, CEO, Building Circles
